

THE EUROPEAN HUMAN RESOURCES MANAGEMENT MODEL

Ionel ONICIUC – CORDUBAN, PhD candidate, “Carol I” National Defense University, Romania, oni_ionel67@yahoo.com,

Horea COROIU, PhD candidate, “Carol I” National Defense University, Romania, horea72@netscape.net

Abstract: The Europeanization process has a direct influence on the management carried out by European companies, producing new concepts: euromanagement, euromanagers and eurocompetencies, notions that lay under the distinctions between European countries from the cultural point of view as well as the impact they have at both economic and social levels.

References

E. Burduş, International Compared Management, Economic Publishing House, Bucharest, 2006.

Bloom H., Calori R., Woot P. - Euromanagement. A New Style for the Global Market, Kogan Page, 1997.

Brewster C, Towards a European Model of Human Resources Management, Journal of International Business Studies, vol.26, 1995.

D.A.Constantinescu, A. Rotaru, C. Savu, Compared Management – Articles and Case Studies, The National Collection, Bucharest, 2002.

Nicolescu O. Compared Management, the European Union, Japan and the USA.